

Want a career in quilting?

Tamara Kate

I first met Tamara Kate and her fabrics at CreativFestival in Toronto, and fell in love with her work. She has such a calm disposition and her fabrics? Gorgeous- the designs, the colours.. well, everything!

Tamara always loved drawing and painting, playing with colour and pattern. This led her to earning a BFA from the Nova Scotia School of Art and Design, and that in turn led to a career in design. She started as a graphic designer, then she began entering the weekly Spoonflower design competitions. Her submissions caught the eye of a fabric company, and the rest is history.

Tamara describes her designs as fresh, joyous and youthful with a touch of whimsy. You can see evidence of her childhood in the Caribbean, her children and nature influencing her unique aesthetic. Her fabrics are available online <https://www.kayajoydesigns.com/>. She has also created some lovely patterns, available through her shop. She what she is up to on Instagram too.
